Biographical/Historical Note

Joseph Jones was a prominent physician, scientist, and teacher of the 19th century. He was born in Liberty County, Georgia, September 6, 1833 to Rev. Charles Colcock Jones, a planter and prominent minister to the slaves. Educated by private tutors as a youth, he later obtained a degree in medicine from the University of Pennsylvania. He actively pursued the investigation of history, etiology, pathology, and treatment of Southern diseases prior to the Civil War while teaching chemistry at Savannah Medical College and later at the University of Georgia. At the onset of the war Jones joined the Liberty Independent Troops as a private; he later served as a surgeon, with the rank of major, in the Confederate States Army and was assigned to Surgeon General Samuel P. Moore to conduct medical studies of principal Southern hospitals and military prisons. He presented his findings to Moore in a series of reports. At the end of the war he resumed his career in medical education and in 1868 accepted a position as Professor of Chemistry and Clinical Medicine in the Medical Dept. of the University of Louisiana and visiting physician at Charity Hospital (1868-1894). Additionally, he served as president to the Louisiana State Board of Health, Louisiana State Medical Society (1889), and as surgeon general in the United Confederate Veterans Association (1889-1894). He continued his research in Southern diseases and related topics throughout the postwar period.

He married Caroline Smelt Davis of Augusta, Ga. Oct. 26, 1859; they had four children, Samuel Stanhope Davis, Susan Hyrne, Charles Colcock, and Mary Cuthbert. After the death of Caroline, Joseph Jones married Susan Raynor Polk, daughter of Episcopalian bishop and Confederate general Leonidas Polk. Their children were Frances Devereaux, Hamilton Polk, and Laura Maxwell. Mary Cuthbert, daughter from his first marriage, married Julien Trist Bringier, son of Louis Amedee Bringier of Tezuco Plantation, La.

Scope and Content Note

Professional and family papers of Dr. Joseph Jones primarily pertain to his research of various diseases, particularly in the Southern States, his study of American archaeology and anthropology, and his research on the medical history of the Confederate States of America. Early letters (1850-1865) relaying family news were written to Dr. Jones by his father, the Reverend Charles C. Jones, his brother, Charles, of Liberty County, Ga., and his first wife, Caroline. Later correspondence written to his second wife, Susan, concern the "French Spoliation Claim", the disposal of Dr. Jones' library and archeological collection, and family matters. Printed items include published books, journals, and pamphlets most of which relate to Dr. Jones' research interests. Manuscript volumes contain letter file books with correspondence and other items related to the Cotton Planters Convention of Georgia, International Medical Congress, and United Confederate Veterans. Manuscript volumes also include correspondence of J. L. Cabell, Confederate States Army Surgeon; business and personal letters; and notebooks of medical courses, lecture notes, research notes, and manuscript drafts of published works. Manuscript writings are the original manuscript drafts of his works that resulted from his extensive research.

Locations and Descriptions

Arrangement of collection: Items in the first seven boxes are arranged in chronological order; boxes eight through 24 are arranged according to type of material.

Location: UU:87

Box 1 (1838-1862) contains a broadside (1838) of Jones' patent, with a diagram, for a cotton press; personal correspondence from his parents while he attended Princeton University, most of which related family news; letters from his wife Caroline; course admittance cards (1853/54-1855/56); extracts from the diary of Reverend Jones (1857-1862).

Box 2 (1861-1865) consists of personal correspondence; Civil War papers; and a legal document concerning the property of Mary Jones. Civil War papers consist of quarterly returns of clothing by the Louisiana 6th Regiment, Company K (1st quarter 1863), discharge document for William Simmons, recommendation for discharge from service (June 19, 1863), quartermasters' report to Dr. Jones for medical supplies (1863), invoices for medicines (1864), morning medical reports (1861-1863), reports of sick and wounded (1862-1863), medical director's consolidated reports of sick and wounded (1862-1864).

Location: UU:88

Box 3 (1866-1876) Includes an advertising handbill for the Southern Medical and Surgical Journal, edited by Dr. Jones. (ca. 1866), a patent application for preserving wood, and papers relating to his work as chairman of the Committee of the Louisiana State Board of Health. Personal correspondence reflects Jones' research of ancient weapons. In a letter to his brother, Charles, he described and illustrated stone hatches and swords (Dec. 11, 1871). Professional correspondence with associates discusses disease, and correspondence with Francis King of John Hopkins Hospital concerns hospital construction plans. Also contained are the administrative rules for Charity Hospital (Sept. 4 1874); the will of Mary C. C. Davis; and a newspaper clipping written by Dr. Jones discussing the Confederate government and Federal prisoners (July 17, 1876).

Location: UU:89

Box 4 (1877-1889) primarily contains correspondence. Letters discuss killing of diseased hogs (Jan. 20, 1877), requests for advice or medical attention, disposal of ammoniacal liquor produced by New Orleans Gas Light Company (Feb. 6, 1878) and sulphate ammonia production (Feb. 6, 1878). Also included is correspondence with Charles Jones concerning property in Georgia and family the plantations of Maybank, Arcadia and Montevideo. There are, in addition, a consular report of Rio de Janeiro to Dr. Jones citing small pox and pulmonary consumption as the prevailing causes of deaths (Nov. 1882), list of leprosy cases in Charity Hospital (1881), an invitation to attend President James Garfield's funeral (1881), a letter to William J. Behan, Mayor of New Orleans, urging that he refuse to grant licences to unauthorized persons selling drugs or practicing medicine (Jan. 2, 1882); legal and business papers related to Jones' patent; a letter to Governor McEnery discussing the legality of Louisiana's quarantine law (Jan 3, 1883), several letters from U. S. Congressmen to Jones's wife, Susan Polk Jones, pertaining to French spoliation claims (April 1884), letters relating to archaeological research on Indian mounds and relics of Mississippi and Louisiana (1884); papers connected to the study of diseases, including a list of subjects for discussion of the Ninth International Medical Congress (Sept. 1887) and a letter, in French, discussing the meeting (Dec. 1887), and printed material related to reunions of Confederate veterans.

Box 5 (1890-1899) contains business letters and family letters with references to plantations in Georgia; receipts for dues paid to Veteran Confederate States Cavalry Association, several case histories of patients possibly at Charity Hospital (Nov. 1891-Feb. 1892). Among the papers is correspondence related to Dr. Jones' medical work and business matters, United Confederate Veterans activities, Dr. Jones' Indian collection, personal letters, and letters of condolence to Mrs. Jones upon the death of Dr. Joseph Jones. Also contained are papers related to U. C. V. affairs including U. C. V. Surgeon General's report to the United Confederate Veterans (1893), draft of proposed changes to the constitution of the U. C. V., and a list of U. C. V. camps with names of commanders and surgeons. Other papers included are a pamphlet, An Act to Regulate the Practice of Medicine and to Create a State Board of Examiners in Louisiana (1892); the last will and testament of Sarah Wallace Cumming; and a photocopy of a letter signed by Varina Jefferson Davis concerning the death of her daughter (Oct. 14, 1898) [original housed in vault].

Box 6 (1901-1909) contains correspondence relating to Susan Polk Jones', attempts to sell Dr. Jones' medical library and archeological collection, with a letter from Grace King (ca. 1901). Other papers relate to the estate of Dr. Jones, including letters to Dr. Hamilton Jones and Susan Polk Jones from Charles Edgeworth Jones who handled the family estate in Liberty County, Ga. These letters discuss Maybank, Arcadia and Montevideo plantations. There is also a printed program for the joint annual meetings of the American Economic Association and American Historical Association, containing a map of New Orleans, La. (1903).

Location: UU:90

Box 7 (1912-1919, n.d.) consists mainly of business correspondence, financial papers, and family letters. Financial papers of banking and investment firms concern the estate of Dr. Joseph Jones and the financial affairs of his widow, Susan Polk Jones. Most transactions were conducted through the Bank of New Orleans, with a few through the Newhall, Churchman and Company, and Investment Bankers of Philadelphia. Letters from her children, Laura, Charles and Frances, reflect their experiences while traveling through the Mediterranean, giving vivid descriptions of the people and places visited in Greece, Constantinople, Syria, Egypt and Spain. A group of letters signed "Susan" presumably written during the Civil War and immediately afterwards describe adjustments planters had to make to changes in the social order. Requests for medical visits; lists of physicians; poems; and a "Negro" sermon are among the undated items. Other undated items include a translation of the prayer Mazuzos; lists of medicinal chemicals, a graded essay written by Jones discussing the literary societies of Tulane University; and a broadside for a performance of the Maya Indian Song and Dance Company.
