BIOGRAPHICAL/HISTORICAL NOTE

James L. Stovall was born on March 20, 1919 in Sikes, Louisiana, a town in Winn Parish. He attended Byrd High School in Shreveport before obtaining an A.B. from Centenary College in 1940 and a B.D. from the School of Theology at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas, in 1943.

Stovall was a World War II Navy Chaplain attached to the U.S. Marine Corps. He also served overseas in Guam, Saipan, Tinian, and in Japan with the Second Marine Division from 1944-1946.

From 1946-1951, Stovall was pastor of First Methodist Church in Eunice, Louisiana. From there he went on to serve as pastor in several churches in Baton Rouge, Lake Charles, Lafayette, Metairie, and Monroe. In 1976, he became Executive Director of the Louisiana Interchurch Conference in Baton Rouge, a position he held until 1991.

A lifetime advocate for civil rights, Stovall was elected and appointed to many positions for the state of Louisiana. He did extensive work with prison reform, chairing the Governor's Pardon, Parole, and Rehabilitation Commission from 1976-1979, as well as leading the Interchurch Conference in the building of an Interfaith Chapel at the Louisiana State Penitentiary in 1981. He was chair of the Angola Educational Foundation and co-organizer of Oakdale Legal Assistance Inc. at the Federal Detention Center in 1986. He was appointed member at large for the Louisiana Commission on Human Rights in 1992.

Stovall became co-organizer and chair of the Louisiana Coalition Against Racism and Nazism in 1989, an organization which evolved following the election of David Duke to the Louisiana House of Representatives. The purpose of the coalition was to provide research and accurate information in order to combat the influence of those who advocate Nazism, racism, and religious and ethnic intolerance. The coalition worked to oppose the influence of Duke, his beliefs, and the movement he represented. The organization ceased approximately three years after the 1992 gubernatorial election.

Stovall is married to the former Alice Balay Mills of Dallas, Texas and they have four children: Mary Alice Ballard, Sally Emerick, Carol Broussard III, and James L. Stovall II. After 35 years of service, he is now a retired United Methodist Minister. Stovall continues to follow the activities of David Duke.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

While the collection dates from 1943-1997, most of the papers date from 1989-1992, and include electrostatic copies of original material dating from the 1970's and 1980's as well as original correspondence from the 1940's and 1950's. They consist of Stovall's personal papers such as correspondence, printed items, and research notes from his career as a minister and as Executive Director of the Louisiana Interchurch Conference. Included are papers regarding his involvement in special issues such as Louisiana prisons, the creation/evolution science debate, and the Farm Crisis. Most of the collection consists of Stovall's personal files regarding the Louisiana Coalition Against Racism and Nazism and related efforts to counter the influence of David Duke (The official papers of LCARN are housed at the Amistad Research Center, Tulane University). Much of the collection consists of photocopies. Items collected or produced by the Coalition include: correspondence, memoranda, information sheets, advertisement copy, press releases, transcripts of speeches, reports, research papers, copies of miscellaneous documents relating to Duke's past, newspaper and magazine clippings, ephemera, and bound resource packets. Two audio tapes (compiled by the Coalition) of excerpts from interviews with Duke in 1986 are included.

SERIES AND SUBSERIES DESCRIPTIONS

Series I. Personal/Church Business, 1943-1997, undated (2 linear feet)

Subseries 1. Personal Correspondence, 1943-1997 (.3 linear feet)

Letters of Stovall concerning personal matters as well as church business. Earliest correspondence, dating from the 1940's, consists of letters from teachers and peers at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas. Later correspondence includes communication from fellow ministers requesting his involvement in special projects in the community, as well as thanking him for his services. Letters from parishioners include those offering church donations, requesting his assistance or advice, and requests for letters of recommendation. Thank-you letters as well as congratulatory notes are present, including those of politicians such as U.S. Senators Russell B. Long and Mary Landrieu.

Subseries 2: Writings, 1941-1990, undated (.7 linear feet)

Majority of writings included consist of personal research notes written by Stovall on various projects with which he was involved. Although these research notes are contained in the personal/church subseries, notes from his work on all issues he was involved in (Louisiana Coalition, Prison Reform) are present. Speeches written by Stovall are present, as well as course reports written by him while in college.
