BIOGRAPHICAL/HISTORICAL NOTE

Emanuel (circa 1840-) and Henry (1842-) Meyer operated a general merchandise store in the town of Clinton, La. Emanuel and his sister, Caroline, immigrated directly to Clinton, Louisiana from Lachen, Bavaria in 1859. Henry immigrated to New Orleans in 1863 before joining his brother in Clinton in 1869. Prior to moving to Clinton, Henry worked for D. Blum and Frank, a dry goods wholesaler in New Orleans.

The Meyer Brothers' Store operated on cotton sales. Emanuel Meyer shipped cotton to New Orleans for sale, and in return, received goods for the store. Merchandise sold in the store included items such as whiskey, tobacco, hardware, clothing, shoes, linens, kitchenware, and saddles. The business succeeded through utilizing a network of other Jewish businesses and individuals. The Meyer brothers' business was backed by their uncle, Abraham Levy, and businessman Abraham Levi of New Orleans. Levi helped stock the store and purchased the cotton that it sold in New Orleans. Emanuel later did business with suppliers from St. Louis, Missouri. Emanuel and Henry were also involved in the Jewish community; the brothers were members of the Feliciana Lodge No. 239 of the International Order of B'nai B'rith.

In the late 19th Century, the business declined due to the impact of the boll weevil on cotton production throughout the south. As of 1900, Emanuel Meyer was living in Dallas, Alabama with his son, Morris and daughter, Celeste operating a cigar shop and newsstand. During the later 19th and early 20th Centuries, the Meyer Brothers' Store was run by Jonie Levy.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The Meyer Brothers' Store records date from 1853 to 1909 and contain records of the Meyer Brothers' Store and associated businesses, the Meyer family and their acquaintances, the Knights of Hibernia, and the Feliciana Lodge No. 239 of the International Order of B'nai B'rith. The records are arranged into two series: Family Letters and Personal Letters (1855-1870, undated) and Business Records and Volumes (1853-1909, undated). Business records include correspondence, bills, checks, and receipts dating from 1866 to 1899. The volumes date from 1866 to 1909 and include ledgers, invoice books, letter books, journals, account books, cash books, memorandum books, cotton record books, and daybooks.

LIST OF SERIES

Series I. Family Letters and Personal Letters, 1855-1870, undated

Series II. Business Records and Volumes, 1853-1909, undated

SERIES DESCRIPTIONSSeries I. Family Letters and Personal Letters, 1855-1870, undated

The family letters consist of letters in German and Yiddish from family members in Germany to Emanuel Meyer, Henry (sometimes Heinrich) Meyer, and Caroline Meyer. Personal letters consist of letters in English and German from family members and friends in the United States pertaining to business conditions and social life in Louisiana and in Galveston, Texas. Family letters and personal letters date from 1855 to 1870.

Series II. Business Records and Volumes, 1853-1909, undated

Business Records and Volumes contain records of the Meyer Brothers' Store, Louis Levy, the Knights of Hibernia, and the Feliciana Lodge No. 239 of the International Order of B'nai B'rith. The records document the Meyer brothers' business, but they also record the business's relationships and practices with Jewish and non-Jewish businesses in Louisiana and the United States. Records of the Feliciana Lodge No. 239 and the Knights of Hibernia are included in the business records and volumes. The records of Feliciana Lodge No. 239 document the Jewish community in the Feliciana Parishes, while Feliciana Lodge and the Knights of Hibernia records document the Meyer brothers' participation in fraternal orders in Louisiana.

Business records include correspondence, bills, receipts, checks, loose papers from accounting volumes, and various printed materials. The business records also include miscellaneous materials such as the "Personal letter from Mama to G. Bruce Staples" and advertisements. Business correspondence, bills, receipts, and other business papers in boxes 1 through 9 are arranged in chronological order. The records date from 1866 to 1899.

The volumes, dating from 1853 to 1909, include various accounting books and are arranged according to volume number, which were assigned during the initial inventory of the collection. Volumes 1 through 245 are loosely arranged according to type and therein chronologically as follows: ledgers, invoice books, letter books, journals, memorandum books, individual account books, promissory notes books, general record books, cotton record books, cash books, daybooks, Knights of Hibernia books, Feliciana Lodge no. 239 record books, and ledgers. Volumes 246 to 321 are not arranged in any order, hence, not all like volumes are arranged together or in chronological order. If a volume type or date is not found with like volumes, search the remaining inventory.
