Biographical/Historical Note

Joseph Kleinpeter, sugar planter and owner of Variety Plantation in Iberville Parish, was the son of John Kleinpeter (1762-1848) and Catherine Sharp. He was born on Sept. 17, 1798. On June 11, 1822, Joseph married Caroline Therese Dardenne, widow of Jacob Brown and daughter of Charles Dardenne and Elizabeth Langlois. The two had a number of children, including sons John Charles and Joseph Sebastian, both represented in later papers.

Scope and Content Note

Over one-half of the items in this collection consist of land records, slave sales, mortgages, and John Kleinpeter succession documents. Of interest are true copies (1840) of land grants, deeds, and certification of claims executed between 1803 and 1822, and the estate of Antoine Guyot (1819). One land grant is for 40 acres issued in 1852 to Daniel Wilson, Private in Captain Edwards Company, Louisiana Volunteers and awarded for his military service in the Florida War. The other, for 160 acres of Louisiana swamp land, is issued to Joseph Kleinpeter in 1859 by Governor Robert C. Wickliffe.

Financial records consist of loose bills (in French) for merchandise purchased, including one dating back to Jacob Brown, the first husband of Kleinpeter's wife. Entries in the record book relate to cash expenditures and net proceeds for slaves and horses (1817-1818), and accounts (1820-1842) for corn and its grinding, other agricultural produce, mutton, clothing, shipping, building a levee in 1825, and other expenses.

Besides the aforementioned slave sales, there are two slave lists, dated 1856 and 1860, which give names and ages. In the record book, slave births are recorded from 1822-1852, and an undated entry gives the number of slaves by cabins. Two Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands labor contracts for 1865 and 1866 are also included.

Civil War documents include a discharge granted to Sebastian Kleinpeter because he had supplied a substitute for the army (1862); a military order to furnish two men to work on the fortifications at Plaquemine, and a provost marshal form certifying that Joseph Kleinpeter had taken the oath of allegiance (1862). There are also two post-Civil War printed commissions: one signed by Governor James Madison Wells, appointing John C. Kleinpeter as captain of the Iberville Parish militia (1865) and one issued in 1889 to C. Kleinpeter as color corporal of the First Battalion of state militia.

Two Plaquemine newspapers, The Iberville South (Nov. 23, 1878) and The Weekly Iberville South (Oct. 12, 1895) are included, as is a facsimile of the first issue of The Picayune, Jan. 25, 1837.
